DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to Applicant's RCE filed on 01/06/2006.
2. Claims 1-15 are pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) as being anticipated by Philips US 2002/0107802A1.

As per claim 1, Philips discloses a method of downloading music over the internet, comprising;

Identifying content to be downloaded by inputting the content to a processing device [ processing device or microprocessor 52, fig 1] see., abstract, page 1-page3, Phillips discloses Applicant's newly added limitation in fig 1, item 52, specifically page 3 wherein said CPU 52 processes the data under the control of an operating system.... Therefore, the processing device is readable as a CPU for processing data);

Partitioning the content using a program executed by the processing device (or microprocessor 52, fig 1) into at least two sections wherein each of the at least two sections has a duration which is less than a threshold duration value assigned by the screening algorithm (see., abstract, pages 1-8. It is inherent to recognize that each AUDIO/VIDEO has a plurality of sections (sections or tracks). Also, each section or track has a time duration);

Subjecting the partitioned content to the screening algorithm (see., abstract, pages 1-8, algorithm or encryption).

As per claims 2 and 3, Philips discloses the claimed method wherein the screening algorithm is a secure digital music initiative screening algorithm see., abstract, pages 1-8, algorithm or encryption).

As per claim 4, Philips discloses the claimed method wherein the content is downloaded from the internet ( see., page 2).

6. Claims 1-5, and 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) as being anticipated by Tagawa et al US 2005/0010795 A1.

As per claims 1-15 Tagawa discloses a digital data recording medium, comprising;

Identifying content to be downloaded by inputting the content to a processing device (or host computer or PC 201, page 4, [0065, page 9, [0129]) see., abstract, page 1-page15;

Partitioning the content into at least two sections wherein each of the at least two sections has a duration which is less than a threshold duration value assigned by the screening algorithm (see., abstract, pages 1-16. It is inherent to recognize that each AUDIO/VIDEO has a plurality of sections (sections or tracks). Also, each section or track has a time duration);

Subjecting the partitioned content to the screening algorithm (see., abstract, pages 1-16, algorithm or encryption).

RESPONSE TO ARGUMENTS

7. Applicant's arguments filed on 08/05/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

REMARKS

8. In response to Applicant's arguments, Applicant has stated that:

a. neither Philips nor disclose partitioning downloaded content into at least two sections wherein each of the at least two sections has a duration that is less than a threshold duration value. However, the Examiner respectfully disagrees with this assertion since Philips and Tagawa disclose this limitation in pages 1-8.

b. each section or track of a recorded item has a time duration. As indicated above, it is inherent to recognize that each AUDIO/VIDEO has a plurality of sections (sections or tracks). Also, each section or track has a time duration.

c. Applicant also argues that Philips fails to disclose the step of “downloading by inputting the content to a processing device” ( processing device or microprocessor 52, fig 1). However, the Examiner respectfully disagrees with this assertion since Philips discloses this limitation in the abstract, page 1-page3, specifically wherein said CPU 52 processes the data under the control of an operating system.... Therefore, the processing device is readable as a CPU for processing data).

d. Furthermore, Applicant argues that Tagawa fails to disclose the step of “downloading by inputting the content to a processing device (processing device or Host computer or PC 201)”. As noted in the previous rejection and hereby incorporated by reference, the cited reference Tagawa discloses this limitation in page 4, [0065, page 9, [0129]) see., abstract, page 1-page15.
